Brother Peter, S. C. Addresses Sodality Of Blessed Virgin

Stresses Honor Of Member- ship In Organization

On Saturday, September 18, Brother Peter, President of St. Stanislaus, delivered a preliminary talk concerning the Sodality as a living organization dedicated to Mary, Immaculate Conception, in which he made it very clear that only those who are Sodality members in the true sense of the word will measure up to the Sodality standard. He stressed the fact that all favors and graces bestowed upon mankind must of necessity come through Mary from Christ the King. Mary is the one and only true intermediary delegated by God Himself to look after both the spiritual and temporal needs of His children on Earth. Thus His expressed wish that we honor and revere Mary of the Immaculate Conception is one of the most beautiful revealed truths of Catholicism. That is in sum and substance why all those aspiring to be genuine Sodality members should make it their duty and deem it a privilege to observe in its entirety the code of the Sodality.

A fortnight later, Saturday, October 2, the Sodality held its first official meeting of the 1943-44 year. After a welcoming address given by Brother Giles, Faculty Moderator, all present filled out forms which showed just how much of a Sodality each boy was at the time. Also, the "old" boys cast votes to elect officers in the organization. To conclude, all Sodality members expect this to be a singularly banner year for the society since all its members, old and new, are so intent on living up to Mary's standard. St. Stanislaus, whose feast occurs on November 13, is honored as the secondary patron of the Sodality. The Feast of the Immaculate Conception on December 8 will be the day of reception for all new members.

FIRST TERM TESTS WERE ADMINISTERED THROUGHOUT WEEK

Results Eagerly Awaited By Student Body

During the course of the past week examinations were given in all the subjects as the first term came to an end. Tests were administered on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday. The students are anxiously awaiting the publication of the results which will be made by Brother Peter some time during the present week.

The results as set down on the report cards which will be sent to the parents are based upon daily marks as well as the results obtained in the tests. The system of grading is that each week a maximum of twenty points can be earned by the student's application and study. At the end of the term there should be a total of 120 points accumulated. Any student obtaining such an enviable record must have been consistently diligent in all his assignments. The tests count for an additional eighty points. The two results are added and then divided by two; the final mark is established on the basis of 100 per cent.

This system of points has been widely in use and is highly popular with all the students. Its main purpose is to set a greater proportionate value on daily work; hence it discourages the tendency prevalent among a certain class of pupils to cram at examination time.

ST. STANISLAUS BAND LOOKS FORWARD TO SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Re-organization Completed With Daily Rehearsals In Full Swing

With the re-organization of the Band, which took considerable time this year owing to the necessity of replacing key men, finally completed, daily rehearsals are now underway. The students have already developed keen interest in the musical program outlined for them this year and have been going about their routine practice with much zest. During the session the Concert band should number approximately forty-eight members. Although many outstanding players were lost through graduation in June, nevertheless, the majority of the splendid concert band of last year have returned. Consequently, there is every reason to look forward to another successful season. Last year's Band it must be remembered won Superior rating in the State.

The music delivered periodically to each member of the Band has already been distributed and the musicians are working hard in preparation for their concert presentations. Brother Romuald has announced that he expects to have the organization ready for its first appearance in concert work some time in mid-December. The Band Master is exceedingly gratified at the prospects of the Band, and promises to conduct even more concerts than last year. He stated that despite earlier handicaps the students are making remarkable progress and are as far advanced now as at this time last year.

The Officers in the organization are as follows: Captain, Frank Kiefer, 1st Lieutenant, Randolph Bourgeois, 2nd Lieutenant, A. J. Scalfide, 2nd Lieutenant, Edward Steiner, (Librarian); Top Sergeant, Francis Shubert; Line Sergeants, Earl Christensen and Karl Pasold; Corporals, Joseph Reuther, E. J. Marengo, and Dupre Lapointe; Drum Major, Rodney Ramond. Our congratulations to these young gentlemen for their winning those highly esteemed positions.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS WILL PARTICIPATE IN STUDENT POLL

Student Opinion Sponsored By Scholastic Magazine

Saint Stanislaus High School Department will participate in the October poll of the Institute of Student Opinion, Principal Brother Peter announced today. The Institute, a national organization sponsored by Scholastic Magazine, has a charter membership of more than twelve hundred senior and junior high school publications, whose staffs conduct opinion polls on timely and significant questions.

October poll questions are based on proposed youth training programs for the post-war era. Students will be asked whether or not they favor a year's compulsory military service by 17 to 21-year-old boys, as proposed in a bill to be presented to Congress by Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the House Military Affairs Committee.

Another question will measure student opinion on a proposed military and citizenship training program for high school boys and girls. This program would require a year's service, spread over four summer vacation periods, and would include, in addition to military and physical training, work activity in such fields as industry, agriculture, aviation, conservation, public health and community services.

Results of the first Institute of Student Opinion poll, conducted in May, revealed that the majority of American high school students are opposed to lowering the legal voting age to 18. Fifty three per cent of the students polled voted against the constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.). forty three per cent favored the amendment, and four per cent expressed no opinion. This majority opinion in the negative came as a surprise to leading educators who had been asked, in advance, to estimate the results of the poll.

The October survey in Saint Stanislaus High School will be conducted by The Rock-A-Chaw, the school's student publication. Pupils will be asked to fill out ballots and turn them over to the Student Opinion Poll Committee.

Claude Martin Is Elected President Of Senior Class

Officers Named By Seniors In Annual Election

On the morning of last Tuesday, October 5, the Senior Class assembled for the all important purpose of electing its four officers. Brother Linus, Vice-President, conducted the meeting and presided over the elections in which every member of the class cast his vote. This year there was a slight change in the customary procedure. Instead of having the usual nominations, all Seniors, members of the 1944 graduating class, were made potential candidates. As a result much time was conserved and the elections were terminated without too much formality.

The initial ballot for the class presidency resulted in an overwhelming victory of Claude Martin who won by a unanimous vote. Claude is a very popular figure throughout the campus and is a talented student. He has the distinction of being Prefect of the Sodality and one of the best all-around personalities in the school. Claude's responsibility during the course of the year will be marked; however, all can rest assured that his leadership will be of the highest order and many useful benefits will accrue.

In the subsequent voting for the Vice-President, Peyton Waters and Frank Thomas both received an even number of votes. In order to break the tie a second vote was cast which ultimately favored Frank Thomas by a sizable majority. Frank is another popular student who has established a record in the classroom. Although of a quiet reserved nature, nevertheless, he has demonstrated his ability in leadership. At present Frank is Editor-in-Chief of the school publication.

JAMES SMITH IS HONORED BY CLASS AS NEW PRESIDENT

Junior Division Elects Officers For 1943-44

On Wednesday, October 6, the annual election of officers in the Junior division was held. The meeting was presided over by Brother Felician. The results proved highly gratifying and all members of the class deserve commendation for their intelligent selection of such fine leaders.

The newly elected Officers are as follows: Jim Smith, President; Harvey Killen, Vice-President; Ernest Dounis, Secretary; and Ray Gluffria, Treasurer. All are outstanding students in and out the classroom and are worthy of the signal honor conferred upon them.

In his inaugural speech to the class, Jim stated, quote: "It is my honest opinion that this year we have a very fine group of Juniors and, in recognition of the honor you have conferred upon me, I will do my utmost to make this a very successful year for all the members of our class." His sentiments were echoed by the other officers who in turn stressed a few words to the group.

With such capable hands at the helm the Junior Class may rest assured that they will have the proper leadership in carrying out the various programs during the year.

THE ROSARY—SIGN OF PREDESTINATION

AS we glance at the calendar we recall that the month of October has been dedicated to the wonderful devotion of the Rosary. No practical Catholic is ignorant of the origin of this great practice of reciting the beads; however, it is always helpful to refresh our minds. It will have the effect of increasing our faith in the efficacy of saying the Rosary which habit can well be styled a sign of Predestination.

It was during the middle ages that the Blessed Mother taught this prayer to St. Dominic who promulgated the devotion. As a result of the widespread practice the terrible Albigensian heresy was completely routed and religious fervor was revived throughout Catholic Europe. The simplicity in saying the beads at any and all times insured its prompt acceptance by people in all walks of life. The wonderful power bestowed by God through His Blessed Mother in the recitation of the Rosary supplied much of the spiritual strength and moral courage that saved Europe as well as individuals from the devastating inroads of heresy and schism. Today more than ever it is our most powerful weapon against our adversary the devil and his evil minions incarnate throughout the world. Repeatedly, the Blessed Virgin has promised through the many apparitions that the sign of the Catholic will be the Rosary. This is a comforting thought to those who have always made it a practice to carry and recite the Beads.

The Church has greatly indulged the recitation of the Beads or five decades of the Rosary. If said before the Blessed Sacrament in Church a plenary indulgence may be gained. An indulgence of twenty-five days can be gained daily just for carrying the beads about one's person.

During the remainder of this month and throughout the rest of our lives let us cultivate the habit of carrying the Beads and reciting frequently this beautiful prayer so pleasing to Mary and Her Divine Son. The Rosary is the "Key to the Kingdom of Heaven."—Frank Thomas.

LEADERSHIP

OF all the natural gifts that God has bestowed upon mankind, the ability to lead is undoubtedly one of the most significant and is unquestionably the most highly praised of all the talents.

People oftentimes wonder why, so much emphasis is placed on the subject of arousing enthusiasm among boys. Why are so many inner qualities such as loyalty, honesty, obedience, and initiative stressed to such a great extent? The reason is that since leadership is just like many other inherent traits or abilities it also requires certain skills.

Nowadays the average person has the impression that leaders were born overnight and that their success was simply an act of natural occurrence. However, in some stage, of their lives leaders had to study, they had to toil, and even had to perform tasks exceedingly repugnant but which had to be done before they could possibly attain the fulfillment of their aspirations.

Similarly, as the world today is abounding in false teachers so is the world at present overflowing with second rate leaders. It is because of such pseudo-leadership that our peaceful world is now enveloped in such a chaotic struggle. What, may we then ask, is lacking which is the cause of this upheaval? Is it not the absence of some material guiding force such as leaders worthy of that appellation staunch in their ideals? The answer is quite plain. Leadership is so potent that when properly qualified and exercised it is capable of raising a nation to unprecedented heights, whereas, when completely ignored it can lead even the most powerful of empires to final disruption and eventual collapse. This is an evident truth and one which should demonstrate the urgent necessity of good leaders—men who are virtuous, upright, and conscientious in their actions and who are willing to lead with unselfish devotion in bringing about the good welfare of all.

This month elections are being conducted in your classrooms. Those of you who have been favored a prominent position as a class officer must realize the great responsibility that rests on your shoulders. On the other hand, all those among you who aspire to become leaders, start now to develop those essential traits which leadership inspires. This is a great talent the acquisition of which will prove in later life a most valuable asset.—Frank Thomas.

What Time of Night Is This? and Driven To Drink

Note: Here are a few interesting papers submitted by the Seniors who wrote on two stories which appeared in a recent issue of the "Queen's Work." The assignment was the "Soberly Project." The first story "What Time of Night Is This?" proposed the question as to what the students think about the homecoming hour on nights out as it should apply to boys and girls of various ages. The second, "Driven to Drink," related the tale of a young man who because his girl friend Edith, whom he had apparently been courting for some time, had rejected his proposal of marriage took to heavy drinking on the plea that he had been jilted. In time as a consequence of the numerous accusations placing the blame on her shoulders, Edith appealed to an old friend for advice. The students took up the story from that point.

While all the controversy is going on about juvenile delinquency and what young people do with their time, few people stop to consider the young persons themselves. I will agree that much time is spent in loitering around street corners at night but why does the question of what time to get in keep arising?

I feel that any rational young person does not just loiter as a rule. When he does keep late hours at night, he generally has a fairly premeditated reason for doing so.

Of course it is difficult to set a specific time to be in but I think that on school nights if we go out at all we should be in by ten o'clock at the latest. On weekends we may extend that time to twelve or so, in the case of a formal dance, one-third should be the latest.

In my opinion it is not a question of time but a question of how that time is spent which is more urgent. If we spend our time wisely and sanely, we will all get along 100 per cent better.—Robert Champagne.

The fundamental thoughts and ideas of youth today are not always in harmony with those of their respective parents. Most fathers and mothers do not realize the importance of understanding their children, and thereby gaining their trust and confidence. The young boy or girl who feels that his or her father and mother are their best friends and advisers will instinctively act as their parents think best. I believe that young boys and girls with a strongly developed moral sense of right and wrong can decide for themselves the length of time, according to the importance of the occasion, that they should stay out at night.

In other words the whole question depends on the mutual attitude of parents and children on this problem. After all, if the home is what it should be, what place can match it.—James Clouesser.

From personal experience I have found that it is almost impossible to set a definite time for "home arrival" from dates, parties, dances, and similar social functions. Truly this is a question open to considerable discussion. Different circumstances confront different situations.

In my opinion, the parents have the unquestionable right to set a "getting in" time for the younger set. But I believe that this time limit should not be managed on an "on the dot" system. And I might add that we owe at least one night home to the folks.

During the school year I think that the young lady should be home by ten o'clock. The young man should be given an extra half hour. For dances, etc., eleven o'clock for the fairer sex and eleven-thirty for the boys. On extra special occasions this limit may be extended a half hour or so. During vacation these limits may be stretched.

As for those making their own money, I do not believe an exception is necessary. I honestly believe that if parents display a modern viewpoint on the subject and the young folks cooperate in turn, there will not be much worry or anxiety.—Hugh Shall.

As for Edith's "driving" Phil to drink, in my opinion it is rather nonsensical. She was torturing, ending whatever was between them because she found out what type of character, I say, that Edith is. He is not much of a man, she nearly married. It was almost inevitable

Allied Armies Continue Progress
Toward Crucial Battle Of Rome
As Italy Declares War On Germany

The terrific struggle for Italy is mounting in ferocity as the Allied armies encounter stiff opposition from the Nazis in their forward trek towards Rome. The Fifth Army has succeeded in crossing the Volturno River but heavy rains have slowed them down. In ordinary weather the stream is barely more than 100 yards wide but a few feet in depth; however, the torrential rains have made it a formidable obstacle in the path of our advancing troops.

Our present position along the Volturno and Calore rivers is about 100 miles from Rome. That City of God is in a most serious predicament and the safety of the Pope grows more precarious from day to day. The Germans no doubt are planning some fiendish moves to utilize their so-called protective custody of the Holy Father to further their own ends. It is a "two-guns" situation that the Pope is a virtual prisoner. The Christian world is greatly troubled at the prospect of Nazi destruction and looting the priceless treasures of the eternal city. The Pope, therefore, is the danger of his very life, and it is reported that the Germans have mounted guns "in the shadows of St. Peter's."

On Wednesday, October 13, the Italians under the leadership of Marshal Badoglio officially declared war on the Nazis with the vow that it would end only with the eviction of the last German from Italian soil.

The mysterious disappearance of Patton and the American Seventh Army has finally been solved with the recent disclosure that it is now fighting alongside the French in the reduction of Corsica.

Japanese Invincibility Is One For Ripley

In the southwest Pacific, the Japanese admitted that their hold on strategic Kolombangara and Vella Lavella islands in the central Solomons had been crushed. In this action a Japanese cruiser and two destroyers were sunk by a small American task force while the former were attempting to evacuate troops. Apparently, the Japanese are no longer a match for our third rate team when it comes to a show-down. The tremendous gains made by their initial blackguard attack after and including Pearl Harbor were of such import as to build up a mighty empire with little or no opposition. Slowly but surely, the process of attrition is gnawing their ill-gained possessions piecemeal.

Russian Offense Seem To Have Stopped Along Dnieper River

The Russians are also hampered by mud in recent weeks. A glance at the map of the Russo-German front confirms the fact that the battle line seems to parallel the Dnieper River from its source in the north to a point about 100 miles north of the Crimea from whence it runs almost perpendicular to that peninsula. North of the Dnieper the front is pretty much the same as before with the Russians pointing towards the Latvian border about 70 miles distant. The farthest Russian advance at Kiev is still approximately 270 miles from the old border of Poland.

ALUMNI

Several of the old boys have paid us friendly visits since the last publication.

Hardly had the Rock-A-Chaw reached you when Guy Funk strode into campus dressed in his sleek Marine uniform. Although Guy is not really an alumnus, still we like to consider him as one because he would be in the present senior class had not the lowered draft age for military service caught up with him.

Another Marine, Peter Benvenuti, also visited us a few days ago. Pete graduated last June and can account for the many occasions that his Stanislaus training has served him in good stead in the Service.

Dan Evans dropped in one Sunday in the symbolic white uniform of a Navy "Gob." He is participating in the V-12 program at Tulane University.

Brother Linus received a letter from Archie Wood who is in the Air Corps. Archie sums up his sentiments by stating that he wants to be "where the rules and regulations are the toughest and the weather hot."

We noticed in one of the Weekly magazines that our old alumnus Henry "Zek" Bonura is finding ample time between fighting to organize baseball leagues among the soldiers in North Africa. Hats off to Zek! Information has also reached us to the effect that Pfc. Rene J. Robichaux of class '31 is with the Marines. Rene enlisted in the 125 Observation squadron in 1940 but when the 28 year bill passed, he was given an honorable discharge and went to work at Keesler Field. After the bombing of Pearl Harbor he resigned and rejoined "the Marines." Two months later he was at Pearl Harbor in Hawaii.

Due to the competent supervision and untiring efforts of Miss Ellis R. N., the treatment room and ward of the infirmary now presents a more attractive and fresh appearance. The hall and kitchenette have also come in for their share of interior decoration. New Linoleum floors have been put down in most of the building.

CAMPUS MUSINGS

This column appears for the first time in the Rock-A-Chaw. It is not intended to be a mere "Gossip Column" but merely one relating occasional incidents humorous or otherwise occurring in or about the campus. We hope it meets with a general approval. Anyone wishing to contribute to its content please get in touch with Claude Martin or Pat Lytal.

"Tank! Jimmy, will the photograph be just like me?"
Jimmy: "Yeah, but we can alter that!"

Brother Giles: "What are you crying about Ronald?"
"Goga!": "You told me to stand in the corner for the present—but you haven't given me the present."

Pat Lytal: "I certainly have some nice boys on my table. I came late for dinner today, and they saved me the softest part of the chicken."

Pat: "The gravy."

Brother Giles: "Compare angle 1 with the right angle, Elmo. What's the difference?"

DAILY CALISTHENIC DRILLS FEATURE PHYSICAL BUILD UP

Routine Exercises Are Made Popular Among Students

At St. Stanislaus it has been customary for the past several years that all students participate in some form of physical development. It is strictly compulsory. Our physical training program was devised solely for the purpose of giving the students every opportunity possible to develop themselves physically. So far, the program has proved very successful as the results have shown. Of the eligible candidates among last year's graduating class none was rejected from the country's armed forces for physical unfitness. That is quite a record of which we may be justly proud. However, that is not an accidental happening but the logical result of the precautions taken here to insure the good health and well being physically of all the students.

Although the intramural football teams are being organized as the next event in the revised sports program, still students cannot take part in this sport. That is why the calisthenic drills prove very useful. Every afternoon after school the boys gather out in the yard for their exercises under the supervision of Brother Julian, Senior Prefect.

Calisthenics is not the only order of the day. After these preliminary workouts are terminated, track meets and boxing matches follow. The tempo of the athletic program at St. Stanislaus is gradually gaining an all time high in intensity. All the boys are showing intense interest in the plan and are conscious of the benefits to be derived from regular exercises. Although Brother Julian has not made any guarantee as to the development of bodies on the Charles Atlas style, he has repeated time and again that all those who attempt to do the exercises with both effort and enthusiasm will soon find themselves growing stronger, more vigorous and healthier every day.

Before starting our second edition of the Who's Who, we wish to express our thanks and gratification to the Messrs. Carter and Landry for their pictorial contribution to this column. We are confident that the photographs accompanying the written sketches of the seniors will prove interest throughout the year.

We now turn our eyes toward James ("Jimmy") Quoyeser as one of our new outstanding seniors of this term. Jimmy matriculated at a military academy in the Lone Star State prior to his coming to Stanislaus. Although a North American, Jimmy considers Venezuela as his home, since he and his family have resided there for so many years. Thus, Jimmy is fortunately bilingual, having had the opportunity to absorb both Spanish and English. His favorite conversational topic is South America, as well as golf, for which he has a virile interest. Jimmy's ready smile well suits his happy personality, which has made him many steadfast friends here at Stanislaus. Interested in music as well as in sports, Jimmy is one of our competent trombonists in this year's band. After graduating, Jimmy intends to enter the Navy. We certainly wish him the greatest success in this his initial ear at Stanislaus.

Next we turn the Kleig-lights upon Leo Geisner, also a new senior this term. He hails from Geisner, La., about which he will speak without too much urging. Having attended another boarding school Leon well appreciates the integral Stanislaus Spirit which he has found here, not to be equal anywhere else. His happy-go-lucky grin as well as his friendly approach have made him many lasting friends. We sincerely wish him the best of luck and success in his single year here at the college.

And finally, we review a day scholar now in his ninth year at Stanislaus. We refer to Edwin ("Eddie") Zimmermann, who commutes daily from Waveland. During the past three years, Eddy was a most capable letterman on the varsity football team. Eddy is deeply interested in Aeronautics, and thus intends to join the Naval Air Corps upon graduating from Stanislaus. After his preliminary training in the Navy, he plans to enter the Marine Air Corps. To Eddy then, we wish the best of luck and success in all his undertakings.

Dependable

as Your Daily Paper

You light up a cigarette, unfold your newspaper and the news of the world unfolds before your eyes. You depend on the printed word to keep you up to the minute on everything that counts.

And smokers depend on Chesterfield for everything that counts in a cigarette. Their Right Combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos makes them Milder, Cooler-Smoking and far Better-Tasting. Make your next pack Chesterfield and see how really good a cigarette can be.

Junior Study Hall Notes

By Joseph Facold
In one of the lectures delivered on a Thursday morning, Brother Peter told us that we were going to have a middle study hall. All the boys that are too large for the small study hall will be transferred to this new group. Brother Leonard will be the Prefect, and we are sure that we are all going to like the idea very much especially with him as our supervisor of conduct.

Swimming has closed and football has started to the joy of all of us. The Tiny Rocks are being organized. Brother Leonard and Brother Mel are in charge of the numerous teams. Some boys did not know how to play football, but they are learning the science of the game rapidly.

Here is a bit of advice to all you members of the little study hall, if you want to take in a show on privileged nights—Be sure that there is no paper or other trash on the floor. A word to the wise is sufficient!

Our congratulations to all the members of the small study hall who sleep in the St. Stanislaus annex. It is reported that they have established an average of 74 per cent

TINY ROCKS ARE BUILDING MIGHTY GRID MACHINES

Two Leagues Were Formed Among Tynmites

Recently Brother Leonard with the assistance of Brother Mel formed two leagues among the Tynmites in the little yard. The first league is made up of those boys weighing over 80 pounds while the second league is composed of all those under that limit. The Captains in the first league are: Jack Carter, Raymond Hagman, Eddie McDonald and Charlie Kiefer. In the other league the Captains are: Paul Palermo, Donald Nalty, Julius Perez and Roger Heitzman.

These leagues are run in preparations for the mighty classic known hereabouts as the Flea-Fly game which will be held in the first week of December. The funds from this game will go to Brother Peter for the Christmas Tree Fund. Out of the two leagues the eventual teams to participate in the Flea-Fly game will be picked. Incidentally, the purpose of the Christmas Tree Fund is to help the underprivileged children of Bay St. Louis and vicinity.

Nearly 100 boys are playing on one or other of the eight teams that comprise the two leagues. The scores as the league stands at present are as follows:

First League—		Won	Lost
J. Carter	0	2	0
R. Hagman	1	1	1
E. McDonald	1	1	1
C. Kiefer	2	0	2
Second League—
R. Heitzman	1	1	1
J. Perez	1	1	1
D. Nalty	0	2	0
P. Palermo	2	0	2

perfect attendance at Daily Mass in the school Chapel since the practice was renewed. No better way of starting off a good day could possibly be found. Keep up the good work!

"They Satisfy" Not A Slogan But A Fact

Emphasizing the basic idea that "They Satisfy" is not a slogan but a fact, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company opens its full campaign of Chesterfield newspaper advertising in daily papers from coast to coast on October 11, continuing on to the Christmas holiday season.

For many years the phrase "They Satisfy" has been almost a synonym for Chesterfield, because it sums up tersely what Chesterfield has always aimed to do—namely, to give smokers the last word in complete smoking pleasure.

Under the headline "Dependable As Your Daily Newspaper," the first advertisement says: "You light up a cigarette, unfold your newspaper and the news of the world unfolds before your eyes. You depend on the printed word to keep you up to the minute on everything that counts," and makes the final point by stating that smokers depend on Chesterfield for everything that counts in a cigarette.

In another advertisement, Chesterfield continues to pay tribute to the printed word by featuring the magazine, using as its theme the magic of the magazine to stir the pulse and quicken the emotions with tales of romance and adventure or mystery and tying up with the enjoyment of smoking by saying that you can always count on Chesterfield for everything that makes smoking a real pleasure.

Two more advertisements are devoted to Chesterfield's leadership in America's largest city, New York, and in the Nation's capital, Washington, with the statements that "Where the Best Wins the Test They Satisfy." These advertisements point out that Chesterfield is America's busiest cigarette—on the job every minute giving smokers what they want.

As this campaign concludes in December, the last advertisement features a happy Santa Claus bringing joy to the world with the cheerful red Chesterfield Christmas cartoon which has come to be the annual symbol of holiday cheer with smokers everywhere—a Christmas gift which in the words of the Advertisement is "As Dependable as Santa Claus" and which never fails to Satisfy.

CLAUDE MARTIN ELECTED PREFECT OF SODALITY HERE

At its meeting last week, the St. Stanislaus Sodality of the Blessed Virgin voted for its officers for the current year. Claude Martin was elected Prefect by a clear margin. The other officers are: James Carter, Secretary, Floyd Toups, Treasurer. Brother Giles, the Sodality Moderator, is withholding the election of the Assistant Prefect until after Christmas. This position will be filled by a member of the Junior division and some time is needed to study the capabilities of the various candidates.

Claude Martin who is also President of the Senior Class has been very active in the Sodality, and we are convinced that he will lead the Sodality in a most successful way. Claude, an old-timer at St. Stanislaus, should make an excellent treasurer because of his initiative, integrity and resourcefulness. Jimmy Carter has proved himself a very capable member of his class and is popular throughout the campus. He should make one of the best Secretaries the Sodality has had in years.

The officers have committed themselves to the task of making this organization enjoy one of the best years in the history of the school.

At a meeting with Brother Giles the officers selected Chairman of the various standing committees.

Copywise, Chesterfield again stresses the importance of "the right combination of the world's best cigarette tobaccos" in making a blend that gives smokers the milder, cooler, better taste they like.

Neither of the two received a majority in the first two ballots, consequently, James Carter was declared the victor by a plurality in the third balloting. Jimmy is considered the "intellectual" of the senior class and is well-liked by all. His popularity has been attested by the fact that he was chosen to act in a similar capacity as an officer in the Sodality.

The final election to decide the class Treasurer was a nip and tuck go between Frank Kiefer and Ernest Pettigean. As in most of the balloting throughout the session it was necessary to declare Ernest the winner by a plurality in the third balloting. Ernest is a cheerful character, dependable, and respected by all the students. He is an ideal St. Stanislaus student in every way.

Brother Linus displayed his satisfaction over the outcome of the voting by congratulating, first, the Officers for meriting the distinguished honor and secondly, the class as a whole for demonstrating such fine judgment in the selection of capable leaders.

They are: Eucharistic and Publicity, Ernest Pettigean; Literature and Our Lady, Joseph Killeen; Mission and Entertainment, Jerome Hayes.
